

From the view-point of the man who wants to buy a house the paper is not complete unless it carries the ads. of all houses in the city that are for sale.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

28 PAGES—LAST EDITION.

SATURDAY, JULY 8, 1905. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

As "Hold-Fast" is the only dog, so "keep trying" is the only success. There's a better job for you, if you could fill it—so keep trying to get it in "the want ad." way."

FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR.

Mutineers Of The Battleship Kniaz Potemkine Surrender

BLACK SEA NO LONGER HAS TERROR

Flag of St. Andrew Once Again Floats Over the Rebel Battleship.

CAPITULATED THIS MORNING.

Buonies Offered to Present Vessel to The Roumanian Government.

DEMANDED THE BREACH BLOCKS.

Asked for Passports and Guarantees That They Would Not Be Extradited to Russia.

MISS MARY SUTTON,

Beat the British Tennis Champion, Miss Douglass.

London, July 8, 3:32 p.m.—Miss May Sutton of Pasadena, Cal., today beat the British champion, Miss K. Douglass, by 6-2, 6-4.

The match was exciting. There were several prolonged rallies and two decisive games. In the first set and five in the second set, Miss Sutton, who played in her best form throughout, completely wore her opponent down. She developed a wonderful new bat stroke which puzzled Miss Douglass, kept her from getting near the net. In the last game of the set, Miss Sutton won straight off the top by Miss Sutton and secured the championship. Miss Sutton was given a great ovation from the spectators who numbered about 3,000.

H. L. Doherty beat N. E. Brooks of Australia, in the all-England round of the tennis singles, 8-6, 6-2, 6-4.

OVERPOWERED SHERIFF.

Then Masked Mob Shoots but Does Not Kill Prisoners.

Armonia, Mo., July 8.—A gang of masked men overpowered and bound Sheriff Marsh, early today, forced their way into the county jail and fired several shots at William and Arthur Spough, prisoners held on the charge of having murdered Sheriff Polk several weeks ago. Each of the Spoughs received three bullets in his legs but neither was seriously wounded. The raiders then quietly dispersed. The purpose of the strange attack is a matter for speculation, since all the shots were fired at the prisoners' legs and there was no attempt upon their heads. Sheriff Marsh was bound and gagged and his keys taken.

Died at 102 Years.

Port Plain, N. Y., July 8.—At the age of 102 years, David T. Timmerman, the oldest man in this section of the country, died here today.

Endeavorers' Excursion Day.

Baltimore, July 8.—Today is "excursion day" to the 36,000 Christian Endeavorers now attending the national convention of the society. All the delegations are off today on three different excursions to Washington where Dist. Commissioner McFarland will deliver an address from the capitol after the service.

On the battlefield of Gettysburg, where an address will be made by Rev. Dr. James L. Hill, and one down the Chesapeake bay for officials, trustees, speakers and invited guests. Among the guests are Gov. Wayland and Mayor Thomas and all their families. An all will return in time to attend a "camp fire" which will be held in Armory hall tonight.

ESCAPED CONVICT LOCATED.

W. D. McCarthy Found Working On a Farm.

Tacoma, Wash., July 8.—W. D. McCarthy, one of the escaped convicts, is reported to be working at Wallace's ranch near Nisqually half way between Olympia and Tacoma. To a man who recognized him, McCarthy declared he had been working there three weeks, but the farm boss says the man has been employed but two days. He could have easily reached the ranch from where the boat in which the convicts escaped was moored.

Willikson, who was shot by Deputy Marshal Reigh last night, was a reporter for the Tacoma News.

Two rifle bullets, fired at a distance of 10 feet shattered his arm and two others went through his coat sleeve. Willikson was acting as a deputy.

George Armitage, another News reporter, was thrown into the sound by the collision of two launches and narrowly escaped death by drowning.

Camper, a vaudeville artist, along Puget Sound from Seattle to Olympia are suffering more from annoyances by the deputy marshals than from fear of the outlaws. It is impossible to go on the water in rowboats, particularly at dusk, without being stopped. Several cases are reported where shots have stopped summer campers. Timid persons are turning to the cities until the excitement is over.

Many eastern tourists en route to the Portland fair are stopping here, hoping to get in on a western man-hunt.

Hay Barges Abizas.

New York, July 8.—Five or six hay barges in the North river has furnished a spectacular and dangerous blaze. Fireboats fought the flames, which were extinguished after a long and difficult fight. One of the blazing barges drifted alongside the Cunard steamer Slavonia, which was scorched by the flames. Commodore Peary's ship, the Roosevelt, also had a narrow escape.

TURKS AUTHORIZED TO SINK HER.

Constantinople, July 8.—The Russian embassy, July 8.—The Russian embassy in the annual cricket match today defeated Oxford by 46 runs.

REPORT ON LEAK OF COTTON STATISTICS

Asst. Statistician Edwin S. Holmes Gave it to Cotton Brokers In New York.

SECY. WILSON TELLS STORY

Information Corresponded Exactly With Figures Afterwards Published —A Great Scandal.

Washington, July 8.—As the result of the investigation by secret service agents into the charges made by Richard Cheatham, secretary of the Cotton Planters' association, that information had been given to cotton brokers in New York by some person or persons in the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture, Secy. Wilson today made public an official report in which he states that Edwin S. Holmes, the associate statistician, has been guilty of "juggling" the official report. The report says:

"It has been found that Mr. Holmes communicated advance information to I. Van Riper, a New York broker, and M. Haas, of New York, who acted as go-between in conveying information from Holmes to other New York brokers, including Theodore Price. Steps have been taken by Secy. Wilson to prevent any further leakage of the department figures and an entire reorganization of the bureau of statistics and manner of preparing monthly crops has been outlined by him. The papers in connection with the investigation were referred to the United States attorney for the District of Columbia and he has reported that in his opinion a criminal prosecution will not be against Holmes. Holmes has been dismissed from the service of the department.

New York, July 8.—Theodore Price, the New York cotton broker, today declared that he had no acquaintance with or knowledge of either L. C. Van Riper or M. Haas, from whom he is said to be a report of the department of agriculture to have received information concerning the cotton crop.

According to the report of Judd of New York, formerly in the employ of L. C. Van Riper, induced the latter to tell of his connection with Holmes and then communicated the information to Mr. Cheatham. Van Riper became the principal witness in the investigation conducted by the secret service and said he was induced to communicate the fact that advance information was being given out by Holmes because he had heard that Holmes and his associates had intended to try to prevent publication of the Jane cotton report. Using this information as a foundation the secret service agents interviewed numerous persons who had been mentioned by Judd and Van Riper, as well as gathering a mass of correspondence, including many letters written by Holmes to Van Riper and others. The charges by Mr. Cheatham were backed up with evidence that information concerning the cotton crop was given to Holmes by some person or persons employed in the bureau of statistics relative to the acreage and condition of the cotton crop of the United States, prior to the official publication of the information, and that the crop figures had been tampered with in the department in the interest of certain cotton speculators. Holmes is the only employee of the government who has been found to have had any connection with supplying information to brokers prior to the publication of the official report.

After reviewing the charges, Secy. Wilson gives a summary of the testimony adduced before secret service agents. Mr. Van Riper, the New York broker, under examination, said he became acquainted with Holmes in New York in August, 1904, through a "mutual friend." According to this testimony, Holmes told him that he could get information concerning the government crop report principally through the efforts of the general agent and the reports of the state agents. Van Riper said Holmes furnished him with information from time to time, for several months, in advance of the publication of the official figures and that the information furnished by Holmes corresponded exactly with the figures afterwards published in the official crop reports. Van Riper stated that he was a general between Holmes and himself, and he was given to understand that Haas was securing information for Theodore Price, a cotton broker of New York. The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price. In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he met Haas at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, 1904, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12 or 13 per cent on acreage which was as bearish as they could make it, and that he was going to see Mr. Holmes and wanted to have an interview, and wanted to see Mr. Price after he saw Price.

In about an hour Haas called on him and said at the request of Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the acreage a little higher and the acreage a little smaller to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report was more bearish than the figures previously given him and that he took this to mean that he effort to influence the report had succeeded.

The witness said he